RASCHKE VON KNOBELSDORFF HEISER advised the Italian Family Office RANCILIO CUBE on venture capital investment into EMIO / EMMY

21 March 2017

RASCHKE VON KNOBELSDORFF HEISER (RKH) advised the Italian Family Office RANCILIO CUBE in connection with a series A financing round of the Berlin-based electric scooter start-up eMio.

The young company that operates under the brand „emmy“ as from 1 March 2017 has been able to collect a seven-figure sum from RANCILIO CUBE and further investors, such as IBB Beteiligungsgesellschaft, a Hamburg-based Family Office and additional Investors from Germany and Austria. Emmy (www.emmy-sharing.de) has currently 150 electric scooters running on Berlin's streets which are bookable via an app and available on a minute-based rate. Starting from April onwards over 200 scooters will be added. Together with public utilities of Stuttgart, the start-up already operates the sharing offer stella-Sharing.

RANCILIO CUBE (www.ranciliocube.com) is the Family Office and Business Accelerator of the Rancilio family who invented the espresso coffee machine „La Regina“ in 1927 and developed the company to an international brand.

RANCILIO CUBE has been advised by RKH partner Dr. Dominik Ziegenhahn (Corporate/M&A), Prof. Dr. Christian Möller (Tax) und Maximilian Neeb (Corporate/M&A). EMMY has been advised by a team of Osborne Clarke.
